

CONTENTS

Dictatorship from Below

---

Petra Polyák	“Class Aliens” at University	5
Katalin Baráth	Partial Assimilation. Narrative Models of Identity in Historians’ Résumés (December 1951)	26
Gyöngyi Farkas	From Open Letter to Anonymous Letter. A ‘True-Blue Democrat’ and Collectivisation	46
Sándor Horváth	A King in Disguise: Reporting as a Means of Asserting Self-Interests at the Dawn of the Kádár Era	69
Edit Lantos	“Our Constitution Grants Religious Freedom for All Honest Workers”. The Basis and Background of Proposals and Justification of Ecclesiastical Construction Projects between 1957 and 1960	90
Mihály Szécsényi	Popular Fiction and Dictatorship. Episodes from the Life of Writer Claire Kenneth	110
Szandra Németh	Is Balaton for Everyone? A Study of Individual Motivation behind Holiday Home Construction in the Socialist Era	137
György Majtényi	Colonising Poverty. The Life of the Poor and the Discourses of Power in the Kádár Era	157

PANORAMA

---

- Gábor Gyáni                      How and Why was the István Hajnal
Circle Created?                      181

BOOKS

---

- A Sketch of a Region behind Europe's Curtain
Anne Applebaum: Vasfüggöny. Kelet-Európa megtörése 1944–1956.
– György Ritter                      198
- Csatári Bence: Az ész a fontos, nem a haj. A Kádár-rendszer könnyűzenei politikája.
– Kata Szabó                      206
- Malte Rolf: Soviet Mass Festivals, 1917–1991.
– Zsuzsanna Fazekas              213
- Valuch Tibor: A jelenkori magyar társadalom.
– Péter Alabán                      218
- Jobst Ágnes: A Stasi működése Magyarországon. A keletnémet és a magyar állambiztonság kapcsolata, 1955–1989.
– Róbert Harmati                  223
- Germuska Pál: A magyar középgepipar. Hadiipar és haditechnikai termelés Magyarországon 1945 és 1980 között.
– Balázs Wencz                      227
- Authors                              231
Contents                              233
Abstracts                              235