

Óbuda University Doctoral School on Safety and Security Sciences
Africa Research Institute
Journal of Central and Eastern European African Studies

Dear Readers,

Dear Fellow Scholars,

I warmly welcome the readers of the second issue of the Journal of Central and Eastern European African Studies (JCEEAS). Unlike the previous thematic issue, this publication covers a wide spectrum of different scientific fields and topics.

Our authors are from all over the world and delivered excellent studies to our editors, using their different approaches in various fields of science to expand attention to Africa. This holistic approach is also manifested in the fact that the focus of the studies ranges from very specific local problems to general topics concerning on the whole continent, placing Africa in a global context.

The opening studies of the publication deal with the issue of counter-terrorism, from the investigation of the socio-demographic and cultural background of the perpetrators of violent acts, to the description of the dynamics of some conflict zones, to the issue of peace-making and reconstruction.

Another large group of studies in this issue appearing in the publication deals with the Africa policy of various global and regional powers, as well as the driving forces behind their intervention in specific conflict situations and the impact of the interventions.

The dynamics of the economy and economic integration of individual African states and regions is also a current theme - and the volume appears in several studies, and the issue of migration also appears in the issue.

I wish you all a great reading experience and plenty of fresh ideas and new approaches offered by these papers!

Dr. Marianna Kármán PhD

Head of Editorial Staff

Journal of Central and Eastern European African Studies,
Senior Researcher

Africa Research Institute,

Doctoral School on Safety and Security Sciences,
Óbuda University

Journal of Central and Eastern European African Studies

Table of contents

M. Kármán: Women as Perpetrators of Violence and Crimes in Africa	3
E. N. Okon: Terrorism, Banditry and Separatism: Is Nigeria at the Brink of Collapse?	17
T. Akinyetun: The Politics and Dynamics of Secession in Nigeria	36
M. Almi: Post-Conflict Peace Construction in Somaliland: Analysing the Internal and External Dynamics	59
R. Schneider: Linking Theory to Practice: The Potency of the “New Wars” Thesis in Better Understanding Contemporary Armed Conflicts, Supporting Peace Operations and Reshaping Post-conflict Resolution – A Liberian Case Study	69
A. Málnássy: Turkey’s Military Role in Libya and Its Wider Strategic Environment (interest) in the Eastern Mediterranean Basin	104
G. Buda – Á. Szunomár: The Winner Takes It All? Who Benefits From China’s Increasing Presence in Francophone Africa?	122
A. Andreev: On the Issue of Monetary Circulation in the Sahrawi Arab Democratic Republic	153
A. Türke: The ECOWAS in Focus of West African Integration Efforts	168
Z. Prantner – A. A-A. Al-Naggar: Changing Nigerian Migration Trends and its Hungarian Context	189
B. Fetter – Sz. Pásztor: MENA Through the Lens of Political Economy: A Review of: “A Critical Political Economy of the Middle East and North Africa” edited by Joel Beinin, Bassam Haddad, Sherene Seikaly	203
C. D. Robinson: Ways out of the maze in Nigeria? A Review of: “Naija Marxisms: Revolutionary Thought in Nigeria” by Adam Mayer	206
G. Sinkó: A Review of: “African Intelligence Services: Early Postcolonial and Contemporary Challenges” by Ryan Schaffer	209
Zs. Szabó: A Review of: “Why Europe Intervenes in Africa? Security, Prestige, and the Legacy of Colonialism” by Catherine Gegout	213
Author Guide	217